Anthropology

Anthropology offers comprehensive, multimedia resources for the study of anthropology, including the largest collection of ethnographic videos and previously unpublished archival field materials. Content is presented on a multimedia platform that reflects the integrated methods of field research, through linking and cross-searchability of text, audiovisual and archival primary sources. Our resources work in tandem to bring the fieldwork process to life by juxtaposing original fieldwork with subsequent published ethnographies, as well as follow

Description

Beyond looking at television in other places, 'TV Around the World' will tell you about a country's population, its society and culture or its ethnical mix. It's a true window to the world, a unique formula – sharp, informative, funny and sometimes outrageous. In early 2009 for example, we looked at what TV is like in Afghanistan, juggling between viewers' thirst for entertainment and news and a strict religious code. The episodes... Show more security in the Pacific is a challenging food production system due to climate variability. The country serves as Fiji's tourism and agricultural home. In recent years, it has endured intense cyclones, longer drying spells, and severe flooding along the heavily populated coastal areas. But the damage can also be quite evident further in land as well. It's within the Sabeto highlands that the Secretariat of the Pacific Community, SPC, in partnership with the Ministry of Agriculture has begun work on a timely project funded by the United States Agency for International Development. The project aims to enhance the climate change resilience of land-based food production systems in Pacific Island communities.

01:55 VIKI BUADROMO PROJECT MANAGER, USAID CLIMATE CHANGE PROJECT SECRETARIAT OF THE PACIFIC COMMUNITY (SPC)

02:00 VUKI BUADROMO: This project is, ah, focused on food security and climate change. It's, ah, being implemented in Pacific Island countries, uhm, and Solomon, Tonga and, ah, the beginning, the project involved throughout the whole of the implementation of the, of the project itself.

done about five years ago is a change from that lecture format, uh... inside the classroom, where sometimes I'm lecturing about these concepts for 45 to 50 minutes. I've taken that out and I put it outside the timetable and kind of condensed it to about an eight to ten minute video. The first bit of digestion happens in the mouth. So this is where starch, gets broken down into maltos. So it doesn't get broken down into a... Obviously, we're that doing that the flip model, where we watch the videos outside of class that way we don't have to take up all the time with the disseminating of the content, we can take that information put it out and that video that takes eight ten minutes, twenty minutes after everything's written down and all said and done and now we can do activities like this, uh... in class rather than just me going back and forth.

28:25 MYRON DUECK: Hang on a second. What you mean by outside the timetable?
